

January 2, 1967

Traditional Russian Recipe

Fresh Matzoth

learned this recipe from her Grandmother in Russia during her childhood.

3 pieces of large Matzoth,

Crush it and put in a strainer with water to soften Take out of strainer and put in a bowl. Add a little salt and 2 eggs. Put a little Crisco oil in a skillet and heat.

When she was in Russia, only the poor like her family, had this for Easter. The others who could afford it might have it whenever they liked.